

Example presentation: STAT444

---

Alex Stringer

This is the first slide

This slide has some basic text.

Paragraphs work like normal.

You can do normal LaTeX:

1. Like lists, etc.

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the `pause` command...

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the pause command...

...to break up text, so people aren't looking at the

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the pause command...

...to break up text, so people aren't looking at the full

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the pause command...

...to break up text, so people aren't looking at the full slide

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the pause command...

...to break up text, so people aren't looking at the full slide of

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the pause command...

...to break up text, so people aren't looking at the full slide of text

This slide contains pauses

I like to use the pause command...

...to break up text, so people aren't looking at the full slide of text all at once.

This slide contains an image

Images work like normal:

Figure 1: What are you lookin' at?

Have fun!